Lacks Funds to Return Night Club Hostess from Detroit to Finish Manslaughter Term.

Marie Morrison, who escaped from City Hospital when a prisoner in June, 1938, and who was arrested Tuesday in Detroit, will not be returned here to finish her term for manslaughter at City Workhouse. No funds are available for bring-ing her here, Joseph Murphy, deputy warden, said today.

She had served nine months of her year's term when she walked out of the hospital. Ostensibly, she was attending religious services in the chapel. A former night club hostess, Miss Morrison, years old, was convicted in 1937 of killing her former employer, Harry Anastas.

She was arrested during a roomng house brawl in Detroit.

The letter also contained a stateto the Federal penitentiary at Lew-"no doubt you are aware of isburg, Pa., and escaped. what we of the Portland Police Department ar edoing in regard to Harry Bridges." When Keegan acknoweldged the renuineness of the letter, Gladstein

"Why did you have difficulty cognizing your own signature?" "I didn't recognize the letter itelf," the witness answered, "Ther are many letters signed by me that don't even read.' He added that his officers often ctated letters to stenographers and then offered them to him for his signature

"Is it your testimony, Capt. Keegan, that you would sign a letter in the Harry Bridges case, marked personal and confidential, which somebody else had dictated and you adn't even read?"

"Yes," Keegan replied quickly. Another Letter Is Read.

Earlier Keegan testified he had osolute confidence in the integrity of Stanley M. (Barry) Doyle, anti radical investigator called by the defense the "mainspring" of an em-ployers' conspiracy to have Bridges deported.

In the course of Keegan's testimony, Gladstein showed purported copies of letters written by Keegan to Aaron Sapiro, a Government witness, saying:

"If I ever did have any confidence in Doyle it surely has been shaken and absolutely broken," and "I doubt the statement made by Larry that he neither expects or asked any reward or pay" (in his antiradical work)

Keegan flushed and explained he hadn't really meant what he said, but wrote it to "pep Sapiro up." Another Discrepancy

The officer testiifed he had not know Arthur James Kent, alias Scott, convicted Los Angeles burglar, who signed an affidavit charging Bridges was a Communist. The defense then confronted Keegan with an affidavit they said Keegan had made urging Kent's sentence be commuted saying he knew him from personal observation."

Keegan admitted he might have asked for leniency if the offense were not serious.

who although they have won 10 straight games are still 71/2 behind those blasting Cincinnati Reds. "While there's life there's hope" is one, and "Don't give up the ship" is another. Still a third, and the one that seems to fit the case best is, "We've just begun to fight."

Ordinarily such a lead at that stage of the race would be con-sidered insuperable. But not for the Redbirds. They played out the string, winning 19 games month's percentage of .826, win-

EVEN MORE CONVINCING as to the Redbirds' traditional uphill fighting qualities was the race of 1934 when the team on Sept. 6 was seven games behind the New York Giants. Again they had 23 games to play but with a handicap of seven to overcome. They did it, winning 18 and losing five, while New York, with 21 games to play, could win only eight.

Today, with 7½ games to make up, the Cardinals still have much better situation now than it was in September of 1930 and

HOWEVER, ALTHOUGH the Cards are coming and attaining some momentum almost daily the Reds are still carrying on, too. Unless they slip considerably, overhauling them will be no such simple matter as the Redbirds found in overtaking the Giants of 1934. That victory was made possible as much by the collapse of the Giants as by the Cardinals' drive.

But we repeat that even with eight games to make up, the Cards' pennant case is not hope-

Peddling Joe Medwick.

JOE MEDWICK is still hot news, in the East. In New York he already is being peddled. Writers there consider that the late Medwick affair was a planned incident and one writer comments:

"Around here it is taken for granted that Medwick is in the showcase . . . It is held that St. Louis cannot afford to keep Medwick . . . Breadon cannot go on taking it on the chin . . . He will have to get rid of Medwick to balance the budget . . . Victory for Atlantan Would Give Him Chance for Top Spot on American Squad.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP) .- It may not be the best tennis match ever staged, but there'll be enough drama for a Pulitzer prize play in today's headline match of the quarterfinals of the eastern grass courts tennis championships.

Bobby Riggs, Chicago's playful Wimbledon champion, and Atlanta's giant killer, Bitsy Grant, are the opponents-and Davis Cup Capt. Walter Pate may get an eyeful before that one is settled.

If anyone can force the careless Riggs to his best game it is Grant. A victory today wouldn't hurt Bit-sy's chances for a top spot on the Davis Cup team to which squad he and Riggs were named yester-

Honestly, we're excited about the Havana tobacco that goes into our new White Owl. It's really a good grade. Perhaps that sounds unbelievable for a cigar costing only 5¢. But we are America's largest buyers of Havana tobacco, and we know what we are talking about. Fact is, it's the same type of Havana tobacco used in popular cigars costing 10¢ and more. ABUNDANT harvests do not come from planting one seed—a single grain—in farmers' fields.

While the area of the field determines the quantity of seed required, harvest expectations must depend upon the acreage properly planted, with no hope of crops from land not seeded.

Business growth and increase follows the law of the field. Productiveness depends upon the same planned planting, with expected production only as far as planning extends.

Business builders recognize this and show their wisdom in the use of the Post-Dispatch advertising columns. For full crops they plan proper coverage in placing their advertising in St. Louis.

This is evident by the record of advertising carried by the Post-Dispatch and by the gain records of advertising in the Post-Dispatch.

During the first 6 months of 1939 the Post-Dispatch Gained * 261,846 Lines of Total Paid Advertising.

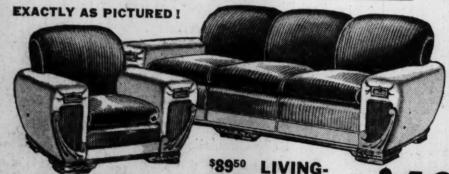

227,054 Lines was the Gain* in Retail Advertising.

This is public business. Public policy is involved. So are public property and public funds. Any agreement the people of St. Louis on the other. The people have 'a right to be kept advised. Their judgment should be asked, in effect, in reports on the negotiations.

The excuse that public discussion would complicate matters does not hold water. The dispute between off than before, the city and the Terminal is not involved. On the contrary, the issue is easily understood. More than 10 years ago-at the peak of the boom-the Terminal made up its mind that it wanted to use the railroad deck of the Municipal Bridge. Use of the Municipal Bridge would be cheaper than using the Merchants Bridge, time would be saved on schedules everything pointed to the advisability of the change.

Accordingly, the Terminal entered into a contract their old cars feel no necessity to bow to with the city whereby the Terminal agreed to build the necessary railroad approaches on the condition that the money advanced would be paid back in tolls. THE RECORD ON COUNTY CONSOLIDATIONS.

In the letters to the editor the other day, one "January J. McNutt" had at us for "beating the which may be reached will be an agreement between drum and strumming the guitar for consolidation of the Terminal on one hand and the city officials for counties, on the theory that this will reduce expenditures." All the potential savings to be had from consolidation would immediately be taken up, he insisted, by the creation of additional minor political jobs, and the taxpayer would be no better

> "Starry-eyed" idealist or not, we know of no better way of determining how a scheme will work than to see how it has worked where it has been tried. There have been only two or three instances of county consolidation in the nation's recent history. One of these occurred in Tennessee in 1919, when James, a rural county, was united to Hamilton County, of which Chattanooga is the county

Nine years later, Prof. John W. Manning of Vanderbilt University made a study of the results of the consolidation and reported as follows in the American Political Science Review:

The tax rate in James County has been cut in half and at the same time improved roads have increased from less than five miles to more than 45 miles and schools are now in session eight or nine months as compared with four months before consolidation. In general, the county is in much better condition than ever

The other modern instance of county consolidation took place in Georgia, in 1932, when Campbell and Milton counties were united with Fulton County, sored by the Dickmann administration, was approved of which Atlanta is the county seat. Trained inby the voters. On the strength of that, the city vestigators, reporting, five years later, found that no extra burden had been placed on Fulton County and that the two smaller counties had been able that a signal system was needed and for that it spent to make a sharp reduction in their tax rates. Campbell's rate had been $3.25 on each $100 of assessed valuation and Milton's $3.20. The rate was reduced Meanwhile, in November, 1937, the city brought suit to $2.25. The school term in these countles has been increased from seven to 10 months, and for contract. Mayor Dickmann and his administration the first time they are enjoying a system of paved

Miss Eleanor Louise Shinn and William Ambler Weaver were married Saturday night in Plymouth Church, Shaker Heights, Cleveland. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Shinn of Shaboulevard here until three years ago. She is a graduate of Washington University, where she became a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mr. Weaver is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Marshall Weaver of Cleveland.

The ceremony was performed by candlelight by the Rev. James M. Lotz, assistant pastor of the church. Candles thrust in tall holders illuminated the center aisle, and others in seven-branched candelabra, decorated with white gladiolas, lighted the fern-banked chancel

The bride wore a white sating gown, its heart-shaped neck line and short leg o' mutton sleeves edged with net ruching. Over her train fell a long tulle veil paneled in rose point lace which had belonged to the Weaver family for many years, secured to her hair by pearls, the gift of her husband, and

It scores again on food value, because it is an inexpensive source of necessary vitamin C. And it has eye appeal with the bright "tomato red" of its coloring. In fact, so eye appealing was it to some seventeenth century Englishmen that they grew the tomato purely for its ornamental value. Originally, the tomato came from tropical America. Since then it has knocked about considerably.

On that oc-casion, the highest court of the land handed down the decision, in connection with a tariff problem, that tomatoes, while they are fruit botanically seaking, are vegetables n the language of common usage.

However, a tomato by any classification is valuable in the diet. It almost runs the gamut of the vitanin alphabet. According to the nutritionists, one medium-sized ripe, ed tomato will furnish about half of a day's requirement for ascoracid or vitamin C, and about one-fifth of the vitamin A needs or a day. In addition, it will conribute some vitamin B1. vitamin G, and the pellagra preventive vita-

They ound that tomatoes put up by ecommended home canning methds even though they lost some of their vitamin C in storage after canning—still rated as a good source of that vitamin.

Tomatoes are easier to can at ome than most vegetables because nlike most vegetables, they are acid foods. For that reason they need not be processed in a steam pressure canner. Processing them n a water bath for a reasonable ength of time will kill any dangerus or trouble-making bacteria that happen to be present. Firm, ripe tomatoes, medium in size, and free from decay are the canning ideal. Pack them either or cold in glass jars or tin Tomatoes packed hot will ed considerably shorter processing than those packed raw. In either case, skin the tomatoes

Tomato Juice.

Tomatoes as juice are in the most onvenient form for making aspics, as well as many other tomato-flavored dishes. And put up without any salt, it will fit into diets of

As short a time as possible from the vine to the container, that's an important rule for tomato juice. So work with only one to two gallons at a time-and do not let the tomatoes stand around between operations. After a preliminary washing and trimming-cut the tomatoes into small pieces. Simmer the to-mato pieces until they soften.

Then put these at once through a fine sieve—a cone or a bowl-shaped sieve is best to get as litle air as possible into the pulp. Reheat the juice at once—just to boiling. Then put it into sterilized jars—add one-half to one teaspoon of salt to a quart if desired—seal immediately. The juice in the glass jars will need no processing. Or, pour the hot juice into tin cans, seal immediately, and process for 5 minutes in a boiling-water bath. Do not leave head space in either jar or can. Another important point in tomato canning success is using the right kind of utensils. To keep the natural tomato color and flavor in juice—use knives of stainless steel and avoid kettles of copper, brass, or iron. And of course, never cook or even let cut tomatoes stand ind in galvanized iron utensils. They'll take up zinc from the pan

Those who buy commercially canned tomato products will—after Jan. 1, 1940—have Federal standards to help them. On that date, Select firm white peaches preferably clingstones. Wash them vell, remove the thin skin with a sharp knife, and stick two cloves into each peach. Cook the vinegar, cinnamon and sugar together for 10 minutes, or until the syrup is fairly thick. Add the peaches, cook them gently until tender, but not broken, and let stand in the syrup overnight. In the morning drain the syrup from the peaches and pack fruit into sterilized jars. Boil the syrup rapidly until thick and pour over the peaches in the jars. Seal, label and store in a cool place. Four and one-half cups (two ounds) sugar.

To prepare fruit, peel about one and one-half pounds fully ripe peaches; pit and grind or crush thoroughly. Pit (do not peel) about one pound full ripe plums. Cut in small pieces and crush thoroughly. Combine fruits.

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a five to six quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary; place over hottest fire. Add Sure-Jell, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, one-fourth teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about eight glasses (six fluid ounces

HOT-COLD SALMON DISH MADE IN RING MOLD

For those who like to serve summer buffet suppers, a main course, poured into a ring mold and gar-nished with watercress and radish roses, has all the tempting charm of its name. This one is a tricky French name and means "hot-cold."

Chaud-Froid of Salmon. Soak three-quarters tablespoon plain gelatin in two tablespoons cold water. Rinse one 16-ounce car salmon with hot water, then separate in flakes, removing the dark skin. Combine one and one-half tablespoons sugar, one and one-half teaspoons salt, two teaspoons flour, two teaspoons prepared yellow mustard. Mix well, then add one egg, slightly beaten, one and one-half tablespoons butter, melted, threequarters cup milk, one-quarter cup pure cider vinegar. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add gelatin, then strain and combine with salmon. Place in individual molds and chill until firm. Turn molds out onto platter and garnish with ripe olives, radishes and watercress. Serves four.

Plain Cake.

One cup sugar.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-fourth cup melted vegetable shortening. One teaspoon vanilla,

One and one-half cups flour, One-half teaspoon salt.

Two eggs. Milk. Sift sugar, flour, baking powder and salt together. Put shortening (warmed but not melted) in measuring cup, add eggs, unbeaten, and fill cup with milk. Add liquid mix-ture to the sifted flour mixture. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly. Bake in layer pans for 20 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees). Put layers together and ice with quick frosting. This batter may also be baked in cup cakes.

DIXIE DAVIS WANTS PEACE AND A FAMILY

Former Gang Lawyer and Bride Plan Life in Small Town-He'd Like to Write.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).-Far away from the threat of vengeful gang bullets, in a quiet little country town, J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, the one-time flashy "kid mouthpiece" of the old $20,000,000-a-year Dutch Schultz policy racket, hopes peace-and raise babies. Also he'd like to write a novel.

In a word, Davis has soured on crime. Today, the 34-year-old, harried ex-lawyer, who once consorted with New York's toughtest gangsters, wants to settle down.

In his first interview since Hope Dare, the former Broadway showgirl who was loyal to him through all his troubles, Davis said

I want to go away with Hope to some small town-some place where nobody knows who I am and where they will forget the name Dixie Davis ever existed." At his side, Hope Dare nodded

I'm in love and very happy," she "I only want to be a good Both voiced hopes of raising a family. "As soon as possible," said Davis Voicing his ambition to be a writer, something entirely different from magazine writing or crime writing."

DIXIE DAVIS, former attorney for the Dutch Schultz policy racket, and his bride, the former HOPE DARE, in New York after their recent secret wedding in Nyack, N. Y.

zine writing or crime writing, Davis said thoughtfully. "I want

"With gangsters in it?" "Please!" he protested. "No more gangsters."

onducting church affairs.

Pastor Gives His Version. The Rev. Mr. Perkins always, h testified, had talked such things over with the Board of Trustees, Board of Deacons and the Board of Deaconesses. He denied that he had attempted to get con-trol of the 89-year-old building and said the congregation seemed in general agreement with the plan to move to the tent for the sum-mer and eventually obtain a more pretentious building near fashionable Negro churches. "Brother Brim was there on account of I saw him," the Rev. Mr. Perkins said, glaring over his goldmmed spectacles when questioned about a meeting last April 21 at which he told of the plan to move to the "West End." "He told me he had no objections, and he didn't vote against it. The first thing I knew about any dispute was when they broke open the church and filed this law suit." Brother Brim had testified that when he went to the church on June 6, he found the pastor carrying out the Bible, the pulpit and the water cooler, which were taken to the Finney avenue tent.

Explains the Padlock.

It was soon afterward, the Rev. Mr. Perkins said on being questioned about his statement that the church door had been broken open, that the lock was replaced with a padlock. The key, he said, was given to the janitor. The janitor was absent and unaccounted for for three days, and during that time it was necessary to use the church

The door was forced open and a second larger padlock was bought.
One of the trustees allied with the pastor's faction was made custodian of the key. But again the door was broken open, and a third and still larger padlock made its appearance. The last installation, it was brought out, was by the anti-Per-

Dear Mrs. Carr:

AM the mother of four sons, three are young men, the fourth, 12 years old. My trouble is that I imagine things and worry a lot.

Dear Martha Carr:

I WOULD LIKE to become a baseball player when I become of are, so would like to know where there are baseball schools I may attend and how much they would cost. SECOND BASE

I would suggest you write Sporting News, Tenth and Olive, S Louis, for this information.

WOULD YOU BE so kind as to tell me how much a girl 15 years old, 5 feet 1 inch tall, should weigh? Also, could you give me height and weight of Deanna Durbin and also Judy Garland? Who played the part of Joe in "Only Angels Have Wings?"

I have a weight chart I will be glad to send to all those interested in knowing what they should weigh. You should weigh about 114 pounds. A year ago, Deanna Durbin was 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighed 112 pounds, and Judy Garland, 4 feet 11 inches tall and weighed 95 pounds. Noah Beery Jr. was "Joe" in the movie "Only Angels Have Wings."

tinually "ride" a fine young man because of something his father has done or does? There is a fine young man in this little town and people don't want their boys and girls to associate with him because of his father. He is a fine, upright, clean young man of 20 who works hard but is getting disheartened because of the comments and the insults he gets. Club King Ruff Wins Contract For Declarer

Proper Play at First Trick, However, Would Have Decided Result.

By Ely Culbertson

EAR MR. CULBERTSON:
The following hand, played at a 24-table match-point fuplicate in Chicago, caused more rouble and more variations in bidding and play than any other hand ever have seen:

"There was a multiplicity of con tracts. At two talles, four spades doubled was made with an overtrick when East opened the diamond queen. The same contract at two other tables was held to just four when East opened the singleton club. Three rounds of clubs were played. East ruffing the third, but then he made the bad guess of shifting to a diamond, North's void suit, and this gave declarer two en tries to dummy for successive spade finesses through West. Obviously, a heart shift by East after ruffing the third club would have defeated the contract since West's spade trick could not have been picked up. This latter defense actually happened at 13 tables and the de clarer was down one. At other tables there were all sorts of other contracts, good and bad, but at my table I was extremely fortunate to get into a five club redoubled contract which, after fulfilment, gave us absolute top on the board. Our bidding was:

"West opened his lowest spade and I let it ride to my jack. cashed both red aces, then ruffed a diamond, led a trump from dummy and covered East's ten with the jack. West won and made a good return of the diamond king, thus forcing dummy. Now I cashed the A-K of spades, discarding my last liamond on the latter, then ruffed a spade with the club deuce. West f course, had to follow. I led the five of hearts and ruffed with dummy's club eight, then led another spade and ruffed with the club king. You will notice that West was helpless. If he decided to overruff and return a trump, the motion picture, "Some Like It Hot," and more pictures are in the established spade would let me disording. "That's the only reason I could to overruft, my king would hold stand going to see the first picture," Krupa explained, "to see what I did wrong. "Women who insist upon getting the finest food products, select the A. G. Stores every time. Here they market without giving quality a second thought because they know an experienced grocer sees to it that they get everything they desire in the way of fine quality foods and prices that are fair to the family budget.

"Another reason why AG Stores are so popular with particular food buyers . . . in these home-owned stores, trained grocery men offer suggestions as to the right foods to serve; and possible profits never influence their recommendations. So, why not get asquainted with 'the AG', you'll find these stores the best place to trade and save."
